DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Information Disclosure Statement

The IDS submitted have been reviewed and made of record.

Specification

2. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

Claim Objections

With respect to the introductory phrase in independent claim 3, the examiner interprets such as being limited to a recording and reproducing apparatus, else claim 3 interpreted to read an alternative Reproducing apparatus would be a duplicate of the reproducing apparatus of claim 2.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Art Unit: 2627

5. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary.

Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

6. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over either Endoh et al ('337) or JP 10-222874 either further considered with Official notice.

Claim 1 is drawn to a product.

The basic regions of an optical disc as recited in claim 1 are depicted in either of the primary reference to Endoh et al or the JP document noted above.

Furthermore, both primary references disclose the pit pitch relationship as recited.

Neither document clearly defines/depicts embossed pits in the claimed region.

The examiner takes Official notice of embossed pits in the claimed region as being old and well known in this environment.

It would have been obvious to modify either of the primary references with the above well known embossed pit capability so as to provide prepit embossed pits in the appropriate region. These embossed pits are used for their desired function.

7. Claims 2 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over either Endoh et al or JP 10-222874 with the well known embossed pit capability as outlined above in paragraph 6 and further with the acknowledged prml and slice level teaching from JP 2001-331944.

The submitted NPL document submitted 3/24/06 indicates that the corresponding foreign application examiner discovered the JP 2001-331944 document as teaching both a slice level and prml capabilities relied upon in this environment.

It would have been obvious to modify either of the primary references as modified by the well known embossed pit capability discussed above with respect to claim 1, and further modify such with the discussed slice level and prml abilities/means in this environment as discussed in the JP 2001-331944 document, so as to permit the recording and reproducing of information upon an optical disc. Motivation is to use existing hardware to record/and or reproduce an optical disc.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Aristotelis M. Psitos whose telephone number is (571) 272-7594. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F: 6:00 - 2:30.

Applicants' representative's attention is drawn to the accompanying MAT (machine assisted translations) of the above noted JP documents.

In JP 10-228874 see the MAT starting at paragraph 8 for instance which begins the description with respect to track/pit pitches.

In JP 2001-331944, see starting at paragraph 43 with respect to ecc, paragraph 147 with respect to prml, and paragraph 160 with respect to slice level.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Dwayne D. Bost can be reached on (571) 272-7023. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
